NIH is the nation’s primary funder of biomedical research, leading to advances in scientific knowledge, better health, and economic growth.

NSF is the only federal agency that supports research and education across all scientific disciplines, underwriting scientific training and promoting discovery.

Federal funding provides support for researchers and trainees who conduct biological and biomedical research in this district.

NIH
- $551K TOTAL FUNDING
- 3 RESEARCH SITES

NSF
- $1.62M TOTAL FUNDING
- 2 RESEARCH SITES