The DOE Office of Science is the nation’s largest funder of basic physical sciences research and manages 10 national laboratories that provide scientists with cutting-edge facilities.

The USDA National Institute of Food and Agriculture funds competitive grants for nutritional and agricultural research, bringing cutting-edge science to complex challenges.

NSF is the only federal agency that supports research and education across all scientific disciplines, underwriting scientific training and promoting discovery.

NIH is the nation’s primary funder of biomedical research, leading to advances in scientific knowledge, better health, and economic growth.

Federal funding provides support for researchers and trainees who conduct biological and biomedical research in this state.

*2019 USDA NIFA funding data was unavailable as of January 31, 2020. USDA data is for FY 2018.